Those programs, activities and procedures will be planned and operated with meaningful consultation with parents of participating children.

- If the LEA plan for Title I, Part A, developed under the ESSA, is not satisfactory to the parents of participating children, the school district will submit any parent comments with the plan when the school district submits the plan to the State Department of Education.
- The school district will engage the parents of children served in Title I, Part A schools in decisions about how the 1 percent of Title I, Part A funds reserved for parental engagement is spent, and will ensure that not less than 95 percent of the one percent reserved goes directly to the schools.
- The school district will be governed by the following statutory definition of parental engagement, and expects that its Title I schools will carry out programs, activities and procedures in accordance with this definition:

Parental engagement means the participation of parents in regular, two-way, and meaningful communication involving student academic learning and other school activities, including ensuring—

- (A) that parents play an integral role in assisting their child's learning;
- (B) that parents are encouraged to be actively involved in their child's education at school;
- (C) that parents are full partners in their child's education and are included, as appropriate, in decision-making and on advisory committees to assist in the education of their child;
- (D) the carrying out of other activities, such as those described in the ESSA.

- The school district, with the help of the schools, will inform parents and parental organizations of the purpose and existence of the Parental Information and Resource Centers in the Title I schools.

2. The Henry County School District will take the following actions to engage parents in the process of school review and improvement under the ESSA:

The Henry County School District will ensure that annual meetings are held at all Title I schools at the beginning of each school year to discuss the following topics:

- Title I participation, services available, and parents' rights
- An explanation of the school's curriculum and the state's content standards
- The State Student Assessment Program

3. The Henry County School District will provide the following necessary coordination, technical assistance, and other support to assist Title I, Part A schools in planning and implementing effective parental engagement activities to improve student academic achievement and school performance:

The Henry County School District will provide a system level Parental Engagement Policy/Plan to serve as a guide for system and school level activities. The district will also set aside no less than 1% of its Title I allocation to provide funding necessary to equip the schools with resources to provide quality Parent Resource Center materials. The system Federal Programs Coordinator will serve as the district level contact to coordinate district level activities and provide technical assistance as needed.

4. The Henry County School District will coordinate and integrate parental engagement strategies in Part A with parental engagement strategies under the following other programs: 3 Fold + Counseling Services, Henry County Schools Mental Health Counselor, Peer Helpers, Living Waters Counseling, local Boys and Girls Clubs, state-operated preschool programs, church-operated and privately operated day care centers by:

-Collaborating with the named programs to integrate strategies to strengthen parental engagement. This will be accomplished through regular meetings held at all Title I schools as well as other appropriate sites.

5. The Henry County School District will take the following actions to conduct, with the involvement of parents, an annual evaluation of the content and effectiveness of this parental engagement policy in improving the quality of its Title I, Part A schools. The evaluation will include identifying barriers to greater participation by parents in parental engagement activities (with particular attention to parents who are economically disadvantaged, are disabled, have limited English proficiency, have limited literacy, or are of any racial or ethnic minority background). The school district will use the findings of the evaluation about its parental engagement policy and activities to design strategies for more effective parental engagement, and to revise, if necessary (and with the involvement of parents) its parental engagement policies.

Parents at all Title I schools will be given surveys (see ACIP) throughout the school year seeking their input on activities, training, and materials that the school should offer to parents the next school year. The distribution and collection of the surveys will be the responsibility of the parental engagement coordinator at each Title I school. Results of the parent surveys will be reviewed by the school-wide advisory committee (including parent representatives) to determine needed changes. Each year, all Title I schools' School-wide Continuous Improvement Plans, including their parental engagement plans, are reviewed and evaluated for effectiveness by the school ACIP committee. Strategies for improvement are developed and implemented. Particular attention is paid to identifying and removing any barriers to greater participation by parents (especially those who are economically disadvantaged, are disabled, have limited English proficiency, have limited literacy, or are of any racial or ethnic minority background) in parental engagement activities.
